Stokes and Fleming-The Legislative Canvess in Warren-Why the Registration was Set Aside-Capt. Sheef All Right-Affairs in the 4th District -Cooper and Mullius-Cannon Copnty-Highly Encouraging Facts. idence of the Union and Dispatch.

WOODBURY, July 8, 1867.—When I wrote to you last, I promised soon to give you some information in relation to the race between Stokes and Fleming, for Congress, and Col. Clift and Lewis Faulkner, Representative of Warn esentative of Warren county, but potical matters in Cannon county are more ularly engaging my attention at this I will only say that Stokes will not meet Capt. Fleming on the stump, They met at Spencer on the 29th. Stokes had a company of loyal militis with him, which he directed to not let Fleming get within one hundred yards of him—that Fleming would hill him—and positively refused to divide time or speak at all with Fleming; and therefore it was announced that Capt. Fleming would speak at a place designated in the town, and the principal part of the crowd, which was large, withdrew to the place designated for Fleming to address them, leaving Billy, his loyal militia, and a few others, whom Billy harangued, and Capt. Fleming addressed a large crowd of the citizens of Van Buren entirely to their satisfaction. Mark the prediction, Capt. Fleming will beat Stokes for Congress by a handsome majority.

FAULENER BEAT AT HIS OWN TRICKS. Lewis Faulkner, the opponent of Col. Jo. Clift for Representative of Warren county, was the Commissioner of Registration for that county, and finding that Col.Clift would beat him for the Legislature, if all to whom he had issued certificates voted, he had his own registration set aside by Brownlow, and a new registration ordered. This act now turns with full force upon Faulkner, for all the loyal citizens, both Radicals and Conservatives, say that they will vote no more to sustain a party and keep them in power, that is continually proscribing their own party. They say they always under-stood the policy of the Radical party to be sustain and support the Union and loyal party, and to proscribe the Rebels: but they now see and know that the Brownlow-Radical party are proscribing all the Union and loyal citizens of the countrymaking the test of loyalty in Warren county, at least-"Are you for Brownlow, Stokes and Faulkner? if you are, you are loval, if not you are disloyal, or a Rebel." The people say they are fired having to prove their loyalty so often. This will be the third time they have had to prove their loyalty and get certificates thereof, and no general election yet. They will prove it again so they can vote in August, and the moment they get their certificales, they say they will vote to keep those proscriptive men out of office. In Warren, they say they know Col. Jo Clift to be a good and true loyal man to the government of the United States, who proved it by taking up arms against the rebellion at the commencement, and as a soldier and an officer, hore himself bravely and manfally fighting for the flag of his country until the rebellion was crushed out, while his opponent, Lewis Fanikner, at the commencement of the rebellion was on the side of the rebellion. If Fautkner denies being a Rebel during the first year of the war, the writer of this communication is in possession of all the facts, knows by whom he was employed, because he was a Rebel, and after both armies got in this country, there was a certain thing occured, that from the force of circumstances, he took refuge in the Federal army. The cause of this sudden change in Faulkner is known to but few, not even to Col. Clift; but if he desires it the facts are known. Your correspondent is in possession of them and will give them to the public, since he has now taken the proscriptive stand he has. But I must tell you something about Cannon. I wrote you a week ago that trouble had sprung up in the Radical ranks here. Mullins spoke here on Monday last, as was expected, but to the mortification of Mullins and the Radical party, only one colored citizen could be got out to hear him speak. Mullins and Morris, the Radical nominee for the Legislature, and three or four other Radicals held a caucus while here, but what they did I do not know, only that it caused some of the respectable Radicals of Cannon to denounce their proscriptive policy and declare themselves in favor of the Conservative Union party. This cannot be said to be a Rebel lie, as is generally said. I will give some names: R. S. Robinson and J. M. Young, two old and respectable citizens of Wood-bury, and who, it is well known, were connected with the Federal army from the commencement of the rebellion until the close of the war, and have ever since acted

How a Magnificent Enterprise Col-Inpsed-Royal Extravagance Unsuit-NOON DISPATCHES. ed to Our Soil-Domestic Troubles, and Napler Vanishes. NEW YORK DISPATCHES.

Correspondence of the Union and Dispatch. Newport, Texn., July 6, 1867.—The denizers of this portion of Brownlow's dominions have been thrown into great excitement by the sudden failure and collapse of one William Napier, a reputed wealthy Englishman, who came to this country some time last winter or fall and purchased a fine farm for the sum of twentyfive thousand dollars in gold. He came with the prestige of a name renowned in history. His family was intelligent and accomplished, and had evidently moved in the highest circles of society from whence they came. Their wardrobe and house hold fixtures and appointments far ex-celled in richness and splendor anything in this section. Awe-struck and amazed we beheld them with their long, rich trains aweep swiftly past, and fancied they were a superior order of beings, whose veins were coursed by the royal blood of mighty Eng-

NAPIER'S PAILURE.

One by one we tremblingly ventured into heir presence, and found them quite social, greeable, and condescending. We not became more calm and self-possessed, and felt ourselves refined and elevated by the association, and elicitated ourselves upon our good fortune in having this wealthy semi-Lord settle in our midst. The mode of farming to be adopted and carried on by Lord Napier, as we reverently termed him, was quite different from that of our farmers. He theorized most beautifully upon his roposed system of conducting his splendid arm, and laid out a magnificent programme that involved enormous expenditures and the application of an immense amount o

He began by buyng several hundred head of shabby sheep, and stocking his farm with a sufficiency of work horses, mules and coxen. Everything moved off swimningly, and I might say magnificently at he beginning. All were running to Lord Napier to sell him horses, mules and cattle, or which he paid very exorbitant prices and many persons whispered in their fami-lies that they had a fortune in prospective out of Napier. He managed his finances so as to pay for most of his stock at the start. We now all had perfect faith that Lord Napier was a millionaire, or closely allied to one. Our poverty-stricken little county was soon to be the most prosperous in the State for money was to be dispensed with a lavish hand by one whose coffers were almost inexhaustible. Lord Napier went North, and in a few days or weeks wagon loads of agricultural implements, seeds of all kinds, etc., began to pour into the county. He soon had three other fine farms rented for a term of ten years, at prices that would have paid the owners almost twice the value of their lands. The rent was to be paid annually. Soon, at least a hundred or more hands were in his employ; a fine merchant mill was in process of erection; a portable steam saw mill on its way, and various other operations were in progress; and Lord Napier actively and energetically going his ceaseless rounds to superintend everything. His industry and rseverance had never been surpassed. All things were going smoothly now, and our railroad enterprise paled before him and ceased to be talked about. All eyes were turned to Napier, and he was the allabsorbing topic of conversation. The time for the first payment on his land came; he hastened North and returned shortly, with a rumor ahead of him, that he had deposited a large amount in a Knox-ville Bank. A few small drafts were given and honored, but no payment his land yet. Low whispers that he might make a failure were heard Soon the pressure against him became stronger. Another trip North and all was He soon returns, but no money could be got. He gave drafts upon a Bal tomore bank which were not honored, as he had no funds there. A collapse seeme mminent, but still many had faith that all would work right. An accomplished lady, a sister-in-law, from London, suddenly appears, and all kinds of rumors grow out o this circumstance, some of which were very derogatory to Napier's character. Sooi whispers are heard of a family rupture growing out of too great an intimacy be tween the Lord and his beautiful gover ness. He and she start for New York, from whence she is to sail for Europe. Mrs. Napier and sister pack up in a day or so, taking the seven children and servants and start, unknown to Napier as they allege, and doubtless truly, for Europe. These scenes of the grand drama startle creditors sere, and attachment after attachment is taken out, and such dragging, and hauling and pulling has rarely been seen. The people will be heavy losers I think. can see now that Napier was obliged to fail. All can see that he was crazy, or a mono maniac on the subject of farming. Still there is a great mystery enveloping the whole thing that may never be unfolded. Napier has not made a dollar by the opera-tion, but spent what little he came here with. The movements of himself ag family, and all his operations and final ciering here, is a thrilling romance of itself, without the tinsel or coloring of fiction. It ought to deeply impress our minds with the truth of two sayings, "that there is o unsurpassed in the city or State.

IN FULLNESS AND ACCURACY NEWS, our paper will compare favorably it's the best in the entire country; and in saying this, we only repeat the expressions of many cur patrons, who are most capable of judging in

In the Political Interests of the People,

The UNION AND DISPATCH, as heretofore, will take the Constitution and laws for its guide; and in the discussion of all the new and intricate questions and issues arising out of the extraordinary condition in which the country ! placed, is will adhere to the principles an teachings of the founders and expesitors of our government and institutions. It will endeaver to guard with vigilance and defend with unwavering earnestness and faith the rights and intests of all the States, and the essential princiles which constitute the hasis of the Republic We shall oppose all invasions of these, and uphold, to the utmost of our shility, the union of the States under them. Feeling that they are endangered by the revolutionary schemes of the Radical politicians who now hold the Legislative power of the Government, we shall abute othing of our past opposition to their meawirs With these views, which are no less than renound convictions, we cannot and will not heeltate to defend the unfortunate South fro the aspersions and impositions beaued upon its people, and urge that Justice and Riger shall be meted out to them.

Our Manufacturing and Domestic Interests.

We shall constantly admonish the Southern people to be self-reitant, and shall do what we may be able to induce the establishment of manufactories in our midst for our home products. To this end we will pay special attention to the cost and statistics of manufacturing, and exert ourselves to encourage the diversification of Southern industries and the development of Southern resources.

Our Financial and Commercial Column.

Every department of business has an immofiate interest in the markets of the country, and in its financial fluctuations and condition. The man who falls to keep himself properly advised as to the rise and fall of the markets, as controlled by the laws of demand and supply. and the relative condition of the currency, is expased to constant loss, and must necessarily fall behind his more intelligent and enterprising neighbors. In order to make our paper valuable as well as interesting, we shall continue to make this a spectan snavune. Our Daily Market Reports, domestic and foreign, by telegraph, and our City Reports, gotten up at heavy expense, have challenged the commendation of our best business men; while our current Financial Reports from all the leading money centre of the country are fuller than have ever o published by any other journal in Tenpusses.

Upon the Subject of Agriculture And kindred topics, we shall also give an extensive variety of valuable and interesting matter-the best adapted to the farming classes or our State, which will, in a great measure, supply the place of a family agricultural paper.

For the Family Circle, And for the special pleasure and profit of the young, each week we will give a general literary and religious miscellany. Nothing shall find its way into our columns unfit for the perusal of the mothers and daughters of the land. Deprecating the demoralizing sensationalism of many contemporary journals, we shall eschow that character; striving to give the reader substantial matter, preferring to be useful rather than ensational.

Decisions of the Supreme Court. In view o the necessities of the legal profession, and the general public interest attaching to the many new questions coming before our
